Dear Hiring Team,

My name is Iurii Basov, and I am interested in the Senior Software Developer - Client Tax role at Interactive Brokers. I bring 10+ years of software engineering experience, including enterprise backend development, data architecture, and production platform ownership in finance-related contexts.

My core hard skills include Java, Spring, REST APIs, Oracle data modeling, XML-oriented data workflows, incident response, scalability analysis, and end-to-end delivery planning. I am experienced in translating business specifications into robust technical implementations and improving critical systems over time through structured engineering practices.

I work as a playing coach: I stay hands-on in implementation while driving architecture decisions, engineering quality, and cross-team delivery alignment. I am motivated by mission-critical systems where reliability, correctness, and long-term maintainability matter.

I would be glad to discuss how my background can contribute to TaxCust system evolution and client-facing tax platform reliability.

Best regards,

Iurii Basov
