Dear Hiring Team,

My name is Iurii Basov, and I am interested in the Remote Fullstack Engineer (Go/React) opportunity at fram^. I bring 10+ years of software engineering experience with hands-on delivery across backend, platform, and product development.

My core hard skills include Golang-oriented backend development, React.js'frontend delivery, RESTful API design, data modeling and database optimization, AWS integration, testing and debugging practices, and strong Agile collaboration with product and design teams. I focus on writing efficient, reusable, and maintainable code while supporting high engineering standards.

I work as a playing coach: I stay close to implementation while helping teams deliver features predictably, resolve issues quickly, and improve development workflows over time.

I would be glad to discuss how my background can contribute to your distributed fullstack team and product goals.

Best regards,

Iurii Basov
